JULY SEES NEW RECORD IN NUMBER OF FIRES

Although half of July has not passed, the month has established a record for having the largest number of fire calls ever recorded at the fire station. In the past the maximum number of fire calls answered by the South Bend fire station has never exceeded 40. This year, July 14 finds nearly 60 recorded, probably due to the exceedingly dry weather. The largest number of roof fires and of grass fires brings the number up, while fires starting under all conditions are more numerous than ever.

PROMINENT WOMAN PHYSICIAN TAKES

ISSUE WITH OFFICIAL AT WASHINGTON

DR. GRACE P. MURRAY.

Dr. Grace P. Murray, one of the most prominent women doctors in America, disagrees with Dr. W. C. Tucker, of the public health service of Washington. Dr. Tucker has laid down certain rules regarding the color of clothing blondes should wear in order to avoid the heat. The uniform he advises consists of white dresses lined hats, dark glasses, and blue or orange colored underwear. Now comes Dr. Murray, who says there are no particular colors warranted to protect blondes from the rays of the sun.

What Do the Circus Folks
Do When They're Off Duty?

What do the spangled ladies with little fluffy skirts and the lithe young girls that fly through the air and the acrobatic persons that seem able to walk on spider webs do when they are not in the arena? Do they spend their leisure hours riding around and around on the gayly-decked circus horses? Do they always wear their abbreviated and dazzling costumes? Do they sometimes take a little nap on the slack wire? Do they ever forget their bewildering accomplishments and "come to earth" and eat and sleep and talk and love like ordinary people?

Really when they are out of the ring, the circus women are for all the world like ordinary people. Except that, perhaps, they are a bit more friendly and jolly and mutually admiring than many groups of other folks that come before the public eye.

It has often been said that the members of a circus are "one big family," and although this is less true than in the old days, since now the various troupes join a circus for a few months and devote their winters to vaudeville, or some other engagements; still there is an intimate family spirit in the modern big circus. Invariably among circus folks the circus and their particular "stunts" are the principal things of life. Ask them how they came to go into the business and they will say, "pictures born in it," or "well, I really didn't have much to do or say about it, I started when I was two and a half years old. I belong to a circus family, of course."

Some Home Life.
The performers manage to get some sort of domestic life even on the "road." They do not, as some imagine, actually live and sleep in tents. Their trams is the train which conveys the circus and each woman has her regular berth which she fixes up to suit her individual taste. There are curtains of pink and blue, or some favorite color, and there are pictures and precious trinkets hung around.

As a rule everybody eats in the cook tent and mighty good food they enjoy. There is not a great deal of time for idling around circus people. Even in their scant home hours they frequently spend a large part of the time practicing or working up new ideas. Bird Millman, "queen of the high wire" is never idle and very few are stretched somewhere back of the dressing tent.

When the Barnum show comes to South Bend, Tuesday a big spectacle entitled "Cleopatra" based upon incidents in the life of Egypt's ill-fated queen will be presented as a feature act.

Iceland is represented in the circus by "Josefson's" "Glimme" troupe of Icelandic wrestlers. Other new features are Mikado's champion wrestlers and Jiu Jitsu experts; Lupeta Pereira, aerialist; Bird Millman May

LAGER BEER

Can Be Made at Home for
One Cent a Glass

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 13, 1913.—Through a recent invention of an expert brewmaster of this city a sparkling and foaming Lager Beer can be made right at home for one cent a glass. He has concentrated Barley, Malt and Hops, the principle ingredients of Beer, so that simply by the addition of water and sugar a genuine and pure Lager Beer can be made. Easily made in any kitchen, no apparatus, no experience necessary, a few minutes does the work. It is claimed by many that the Beer made by his method is better and purer than the best Brewery Beer, and above all saves the Breweries enormous profits. The question of the legality of his method has been carefully investigated by the highest authorities and found to be legitimate in every respect. He has written a very interesting booklet giving the "Secrets of Brewing Beer at Home" and by writing to Brewmaster, A. S. Shub, 1100 Syracuse St., Cincinnati, O., he will be more than pleased to mail his booklet absolutely free to anyone sending their name and address.

ACID FRUITS BEST FOR MAKING JELLY

Contain Most "Pectin," Property Which Makes Juice Gelatinize—Some Recipes.

The average housekeeper often feels very less sure of the success of the jelly than of preserves and it is almost a "gamble." There is a long story of pectose and pectase (which the average woman has no time or inclination to understand or understand or solve.) These always exist in unripe fruit. As the fruit ripens they together form pectin. This is necessary material for jelly making.

Pectin is at its best when fruit is just ripe, but, as we so rarely are able to secure the fruit at just that time, it is far better to use it a little before for making jelly. Pectin has the power to gelatinize. Too long boiling of fruit and sugar causes the pectin to lose this power. Acid fruits contain most pectin, so it is often necessary to combine fruits as the strawberry, which has very little jelly-making pectin with currant or gooseberry and we have a fine jelly. Here is a list of the best jelly making fruits.

Currents, crabapple, apple, quince, grape, blackberry, raspberry and peach. Apples will form a jelly base and may be flavored with almost any fruit flavor or spice.

Strain all juices for jelly through cheese-cloth bags. Do not press, but allow to drip slowly and for every pint of juice used add one pint of granulated sugar and boil slowly twenty minutes. Raspberries and currants, equal amounts and make the same as currant jelly. Marmalades require great care while cooking. They burn very easily. If it is made from berries the fruit should be rubbed through a fine sieve to remove all seeds. Measure fruit and sugar, allowing one pint of sugar to each quart of fruit pulp. Rinse the preserving kettle so sides and bottom are moist. Add layer of fruit, then layer of sugar until not more than two layers of each are used. (Layers to be not more than two inches deep.) Heat slowly and stir constantly. If one has an iron stand used for holding a sad iron stand place it under the kettle so as to allow an air space between heat and kettle bottom. Allow to boil slowly two hours for not more than four quarts of fruit. Pack in small jars or glasses and cover with paraffine.

Plum Jelly
Use an unripe acid plum. Wash fruit and remove all stems. To each peck of fruit add one quart of water. Cool gently until plums fall to pieces. (Be careful and stir as they break easily.) Strain juice through cheese-cloth bag and allow a bowl of juice to bowl of sugar. Heat slowly to bring point and boil fifteen minutes. Turn into tumblers. Wild grapes make a most delicious jelly.

Strawberry and Currant Jelly
To ten quarts of strawberries add two quarts of currants and proceed as for currant jelly. Boil fifteen minutes after it begins to bubble. Fine for game.

With a young Australian, who will be seen for the first time here. The clowns, of whom P. T. Barnum once said, "they are the peg upon which the circus is hung" number over two score.

To Look and Feel
Bright in Hot Weather

(From The Woman Beautiful.)

This is the season when she who would have a rose-leaf complexion, lily-white neck and hands, should turn her thoughts to, mercurized wax, the firm friend of the summer girl. Nothing so effectively overcomes the soiling effects of sun, wind, dust and dirt. The wax literally absorbs the scorched, discolored, withered or coarsened cuticle, bringing forth a brand new skin, clear, soft and gloriously beautiful. It also unclogs the pores, removing blackheads and increasing the skin's breathing capacity. An ounce of mercurized wax, obtainable at any drug store, applied nightly like cold cream, and washed off mornings, will gradually improve the worst complexion.

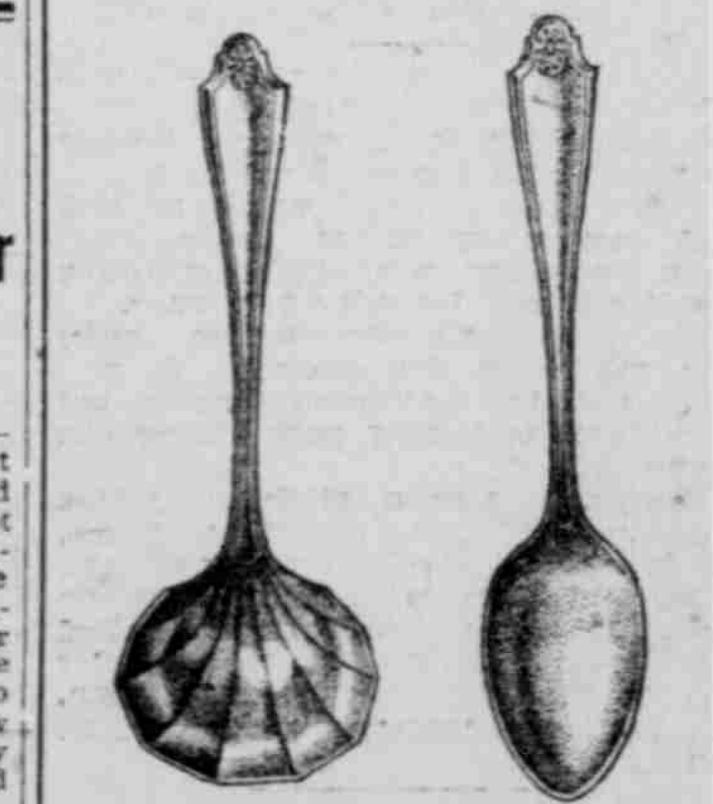

When depressed by the heat and you want to freshen up for the evening, bathe the face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint with hazel. You'll find this more refreshing than an hour's rest. It is fine for smoothing out wrinkles, even the deeper ones.

Many Face Financial Ruin From Series of Revolutions That Have Paralyzed Business.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Destitute Americans are arriving in the United States on every boat from Mexican ports. Many of them face financial ruin in consequence of the series of revolutions which have paralyzed commercial and industrial enterprises, and they are leaving the southern republic with reluctance.

American consuls are empowered to draw upon the states department for funds to bring Americans out of the various danger zones and in some instances, notably at Torreón, Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson has sent money to be expended by consuls and consular agents to relieve actual hunger.

You can't always make everything "just so." Sometimes you will get in more shortening than usual; or make the batter a little thin; or it may not be convenient to put a cake in the oven the moment it is mixed; or your oven may not bake evenly and it is necessary to turn the pan around—none of these little uncertainties make the slightest difference in results if you use
